How long you'll keep eating
the same old noodles?

It's time you tried something new,
something exciting.
It's time you had some fun with noodles.

It's time you had Zoopy!

But hey, what is Zoopy?

As fun as it sounds, Zoopy is a dream brand of Supreme Nutri Grain Pvt Ltd.
Popularly known for instant noodles,
Zoopy is all set to grow its product basket
over the next few years.

About Us

Established in 2012, Supreme Nutri Grain Pvt. Ltd. are engaged in manufacturing instant noodles under the processed food category. Since the market of instant noodles is highly monopolised and aggressive, we are doubly committed to offer products which are at par with or better than the best in the category. The overwhelming response we've received for our efforts has further strengthened our resolve to offer newer and better products. While taste is of paramount importance in this category, we make sure that it doesn't come at the cost of health.

All our products are manufactured in accordance with the food safety standards to meet legal, statutory, and safety norms of the respective markets. Thanks to our stringent Quality Control (QC) measures, the product has been benchmarked against global brands in this category. No wonder we are now exporting it to USA, Canada, South Africa and Ghana.

Infrastructure

The factory has been designed and constructed in accordance with the norms set by Good Manufacturing Practices (GMP) with a total civil built-up area of 32,000 sq ft in a sprawling 2 acre campus. The movement of man, material, and services is properly routed in the design for a smooth and efficient flow of work. Some of the important features of the manufacturing facility are:

- Dedicated areas for raw material, processing, utility and finished goods
- Mandatory hygiene protocols
- Viewing gallery for quick supervision
- Highly sophisticated and advanced manufacturing technology procured from the best in the world

Products

We manufacture instant noodles, soups and masala sprinkler using the best of ingredients, world-class technology, and professional expertise. Our noodles are processed with Pre-Drying Technology which leads to low absorption of oil during preparation. But more than anything, it's our passion to delight our consumers with superior quality products, which keeps us inspired. Our basket of noodles, soups and masala sprinklers include the following products.
